SUB WEBZINE

def-n

Press Release

def-n is a site of noise art and sub-cultures. We bring out everything about noise art. We do internet browsing, interviews, researches, video makings, paintings, and networking. We also plan to make events, in internet or live on the street. We have posted our first post in November 10 and it will continue every Sunday.

def-n is an alias of the true name of the former of the community. We do not want to use our birth name in any media but the real world. It takes from the word "deafen" which can be found in your dictionary. It reveals what we talk about here: noise.

def-n opens for everyone who wants to make any work that is associated to noise art and sub-cultures. We will share everything we have to You. Thus, make sure what You plan to work and You can share with us then let see what we can help for your project. We can hold events or exhibitions if it is necessary.

Best regards,

def-n
